

Everyday Uses for Lavender Sachets

Aside from lovely smelling even lovelier, lavender sachets have many different uses:

- Stow them in drawers to make clothing and delicates smell lovely

- Toss in the dryer with laundry (good for at least a dozen loads!)

- Place in linen closet between towels and linens to keep fresh and bug free

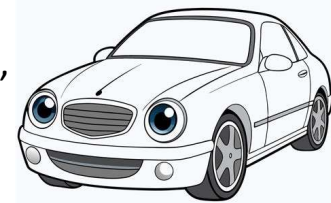

- Use as a natural alternative to mothballs, which are toxic, to help repel moths while storing seasonal clothes

- Store one in each piece of empty luggage after a trip to keep suitcases smelling fresh and clean

- Place in shoes to remove odors and keep shoes fresher longer.

- Stow in the car, under seats between seats, in trunk, or glove compartment as a pleasant alternative to commercial air fresheners

- Drop one right in the bathtub for a soothing soak

- Place in a pillowcase as an aid to relaxation before sleeping